

Reception Newsletter

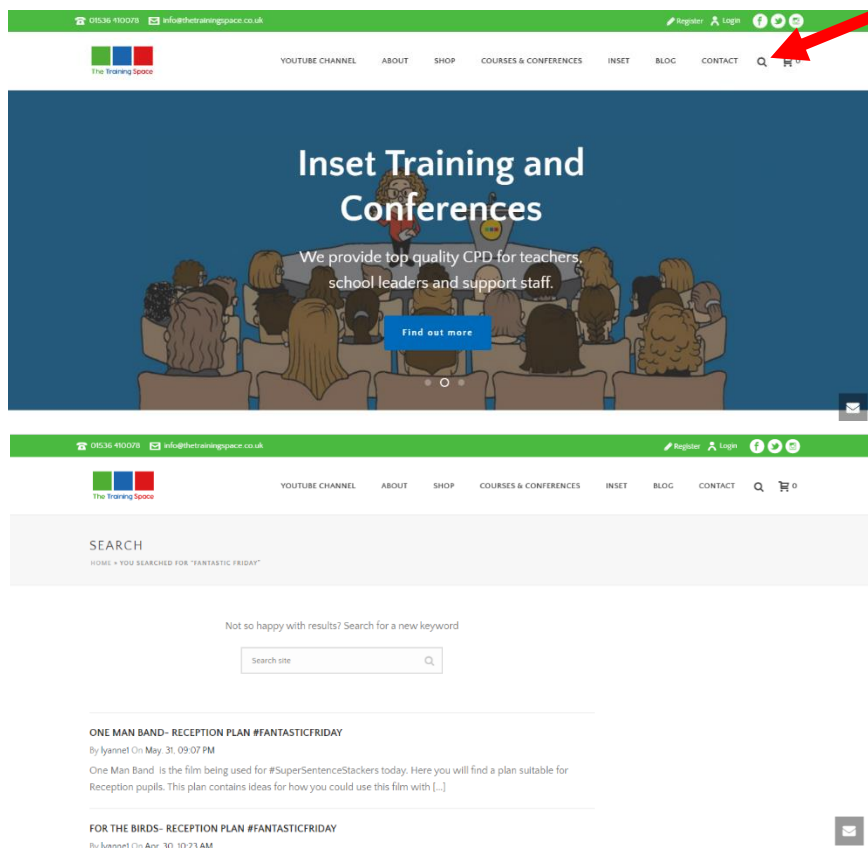

Hello Children! Hope you are all well and have had lots of fun this week, doing lots of different activities. Did you complete any of the acts of kindness? We already know how kind you all are but it's important to carry on showing it in little ways too. Continue with them and see if you can complete more this week!

Home Learning

Please see the weekly Home Learning plan alongside the newsletter for this week's project 'Famous and Significant People.' Lots of you will already have looked at very significant people over the last few weeks – Captain Tom Moore and the soldiers who fought in World War 2 when we celebrated VE day! Significant people to you might also include your family members, maybe great grandparents who played a part in the War or people with very special and important jobs. Enjoy learning about all the wonderful people in our world this week. Please remember you don't have to complete every activity, every day. Please do as much or as little as you wish.

Writing

This week we have been made aware of an education consultant, Jane Considine, who is offering free plans for writing activities for children in Reception. They are currently being uploaded every Friday to her website The Training Space <https://www.thetrainingspace.co.uk/>. They have uploaded two so far and they're brilliant for supporting your child with writing. The easiest way to access these plans is to launch the website, find the search bar and then type in 'Fantastic Friday.' The plans are completely free.

The screenshot shows the website 'The Training Space' with a green header. The main navigation menu includes: YOUTUBE CHANNEL, ABOUT, SHOP, COURSES & CONFERENCES, INSET, BLOG, CONTACT, and a search icon. A red arrow points to the search icon. Below the navigation is a large blue banner for 'Inset Training and Conferences' with the text 'We provide top quality CPD for teachers, school leaders and support staff.' and a 'Find out more' button. Below the banner is a search bar with the text 'SEARCH' and 'HOME - YOU SEARCHED FOR "FANTASTIC FRIDAY"'. Below the search bar is a message: 'Not so happy with results? Search for a new keyword' and a search input field. Below the search input field are two search results:
